KILLINGLY HIGH SCHOOL
35 WESTFIELD AVENUE
DANIELSON, CONNECTICUT
VOLUME XXXVII

We Are the Architects of Our Lives

The opening of the new school was a momentous occasion in the history of education in the Town of Killingly. It marked the beginning of a new era in secondary education. This new era provides us both with an opportunity and a challenge.

The greatest opportunity which I see for us in the opening of the new school is that of setting a pattern for future generations of students.

In the older building on Broad Street we were heirs to many practices and conditions which had become more suitable to education of an earlier period. We were necessarily limited in the breadth of the educational program possible. We now have an opportunity to shape the program of the school and to initiate activities which could well become permanent parts of a long catalogue of memorable traditions of Killingly High School.

And so, every time we make a decision, whether it is large or small, we should be conscious of its significance for the future. And this is how you play a part.

I want you, faculty and students, to help me with decisions in regard to the school. I know that we can do a good job if we work together.

The challenge I see is for each of us to work as hard as needed to fulfill our particular role in the school organization. We have been provided for so generously that we cannot afford to put forth less than our best effort.

To help us to provide the best in education for secondary school youth in the Town of Killingly, we have been provided with a new facility. A new building has been committed to our care. I know that in your pride in it you will be as forceful in resisting attempts to mar or deface it as you will be in upholding its reputation for scholarship and its record in athletics.

You and I are participants in a grand enterprise. I am happy that I am your partner in an organization with an outstanding staff and a promising group of students

Dr. Francis J. Fisher
Principal

Mr. Robert D. Payne, Superintendent of the Killingly School System.

Those Who Have Planned

Superintendent of Schools Robert D. Payne and Miss Ruth Fiske.

The Rev. Armand Nadeau, M.S., gave the invocation.

The Class of 1966 dedicates THE KILLONIAN to the people who have made the new high school possible: the members of the Board of Finance, the Building Committee, the Board of Education, and other school and town officials.

There is also another group to be praised for this fine building, the taxpayers of the town of Killingly. Without the support of our parents and friends, the school never could have become a reality.

Among the outstanding persons responsible for the conception, planning, and erection of the school are Mr. J. Edgar Moe, Chairman of the Building Committee; Mr. Robert D. Payne, Superintendent of Schools; Dr. Francis J. Fisher, Principal of Killingly High School; and Mr. Owen Bell, Town Manager. Also to be commended is Miss Ruth Fiske, from whom the land for the school site was acquired. Mr. Fredo Lehrer was Chairman of the Regional Vocational Agriculture Consulting Committee.

To these and all others who helped, the Class of 1966 is grateful for the opportunity of learning in and being the first to graduate from such a superior educational institution, the finest in the town's history.

Pictured — Mr. Owen Bell, Town Manager; Mr. Robert D. Payne, Superintendent of Schools; Mr. J. Edgar Moe, Building Committee Chairman; Hon. T. Emmet Clarie, keynote speaker; and Mr. Leon Gauthier, Chairman of the Killingly Board of Education.

The Plan Materialized

On April 28, 1964, groundbreaking ceremonies were held to officially begin the construction of the new high school. On the same day a contract was signed giving the project to the Wadhams and May Company.

The preliminary task of clearing the construction site of trees and brush was begun immediately. Upon completion bulldozers and steamshovels were brought in to start the excavation. Soon, the concrete was poured for the foundation, and work was begun on erecting the structure itself. First, the steel skeleton of the building was assembled; each girder was riveted carefully in place. It was especially important to exercise care during this process because the girders must support the entire weight of the building. Next, the workmen laid bricks, and their progress could be followed from day to day as layer upon layer was added. The building began to take shape. It soon resembled a huge, empty shell. The shell was then divided into two levels which were subdivided into rooms. The floors and ceilings were laid, the plumbing and electric fixtures were installed, and the walls were painted. As the deadline approached, the furniture was brought in; and the finishing touches were applied. Finally, on Sunday, November 7, 1965, the dedication of the new school signaled the completion of the project. The class of 1966 congratulates the Wadhams and May Company and everyone else connected with the construction of the school for a job well done.

Our First Glimpse

On Monday, September 13, 1965, we, the students of Killingly High, entered our new school to begin classes for the first time. Filled with awe and admiration, we roamed through our building, examined its many facilities, and anticipated the coming year. What had we expected before we crossed the threshold of our new high school? Surely, no more than we received did we anticipate, nor any less. As each day passed, our appreciation of what we faced grew. What had been handed to us was a stepping stone to our future success and a milestone for posterity.

We find our school inspiring . . . with thoughts of wisdom and of the heart . . .

We are proud of our school.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The Social Studies department offers a wide spectrum of subjects to students. Two new courses, European, Asian, and African Civilizations and Contemporary Issues, have been added to those subjects offered in previous years: Economics and Law, Civics, United States History, and World History.

This course of study is designed to help provide students with the skills and knowledge necessary for their adult years, years in which they will be called upon to compete in a society even more technologically sophisticated than that of the present day, and to vote intelligently in a world in which problems are becoming more complex. Democracy can only succeed in a society in which the citizens are well-educated. This serves as the basis for our Social Studies curriculum.

ENGLISH

The study of English is of prime importance. It lays the lifetime fundamentals that will be used in a world where communications is the basis of all learning. The English laboratory with its miniature stage and public address system enables each student to train in speech, listening, interpretation, and acting. Such experiences are rewarding assets in one's education. Within the study of oral communications each student improves his ability to inform, to persuade, and to entertain. The main objectives of using modern techniques in the study of English are to aid each student in becoming a more convincing personality, a more influential member of his school and community, and a better-informed citizen.

Ann, how 'bout Saturday night.

And now, back to Spain.

LANGUAGE

Effective communication is invaluable if we are to understand and appreciate the civilizations of our new neighbors in today's world of rapid jet travel and increased international commerce. The ability to read and write foreign languages is not enough; the space-age individual must also be able to speak fluently at least one foreign tongue. With this in mind, language laboratories were designed to provide students the opportunity of hearing citizens of other lands speak in their native tongues. By using this listen-response system, students can become better prepared to communicate with people of other nations.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The Business Education Department is training its students in the necessary skills for today's business needs. Up-to-date equipment is available in continuously improving methods of instruction. In addition to the basic skills in various areas such as bookkeeping, stenography, typing, and office machines, emphasis is placed on the acquisition of efficient work habits and proper attitudes conducive to effective personal relations in the business world.

Graduates of this curriculum are qualified to assume the responsibility of a beginner's position in a business or professional office. While many students consider this a terminal course, it is also preparatory for college studies.

VOCATIONAL ARTS

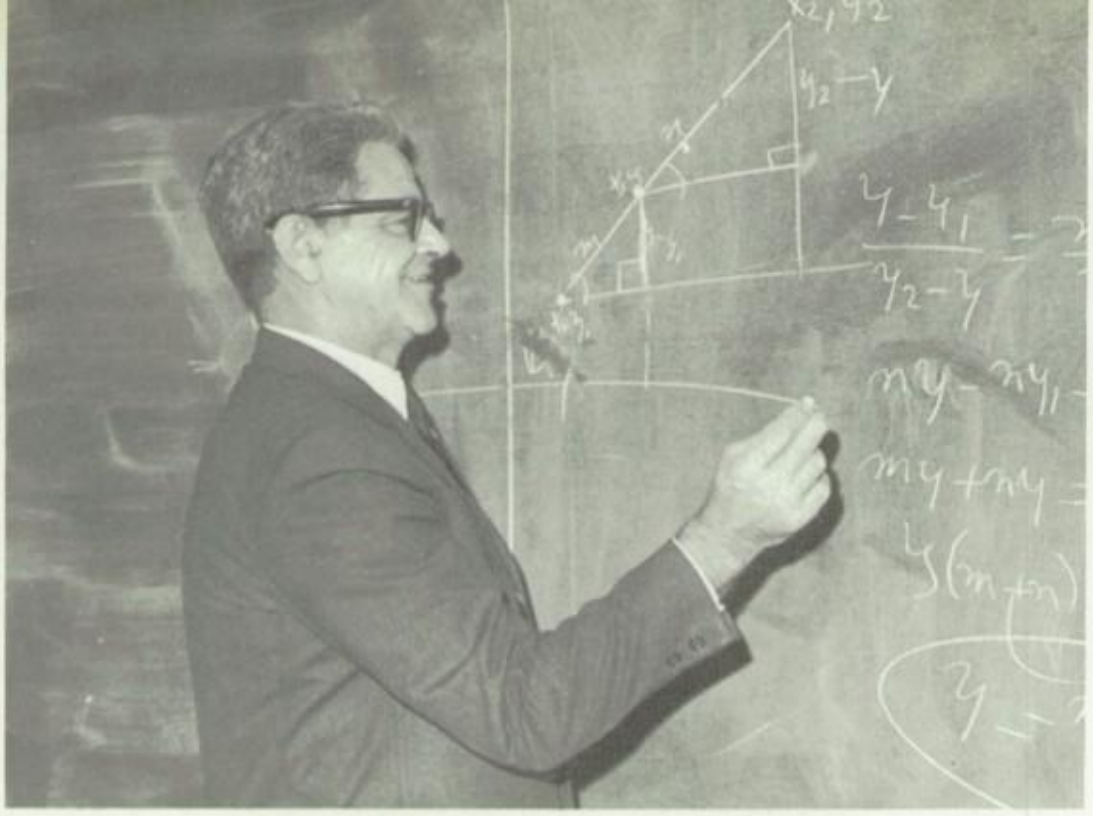
The demands of our growing society with its changing cultural patterns formed the basis of the plans for the ultra-modern vocational arts units.

In the industrial arts program, students become acquainted with tools, processes, occupations and industries upon which our economy depends.

The Regional Vocational Agriculture program teaches the latest farming techniques and the use of modern equipment. The facilities include a shop, greenhouse, laboratory, livestock section, and a reference room.

Home Economics acquaints young ladies with the basic skills needed to run a household. Among these are food preparation, sewing, grooming, and home nursing. Besides a general classroom, this area is equipped with two laboratories having complete kitchen facilities.

It is the desire of the vocational arts instructors to help young men and women become the productive citizens of tomorrow.



Tomorrow we'll take up subtraction.

MATHEMATICS

Mathematics is not only a challenging but also an inspiring discipline. From elementary arithmetic to advanced mathematics it contains many series of intricate mysteries to be solved by the use of basic laws. Everyone who is willing to concentrate and apply himself diligently is capable of delving into the many complexities of mathematics and coming up with the correct answers. Somewhere in the solving process the student awakens to the beauty and recognizes the value of mathematics in a world challenging the atom and outer space.

SCIENCE

The science department in the new school is the finest in Killingly's history. Consisting of six laboratories for several different subjects, and additional regular classrooms for instruction, the department is located in one corridor for better co-ordination. This enlarged department is able to serve more students. The science department educates students in all curriculums, not just those in college and nursing preparatory courses. In the future science will receive even greater emphasis, not only in perusing careers, but in producing well-informed citizens Science is more than useful; it is vital to each of us.

FINE ARTS

Through the fine arts, students become more aware of life's aesthetic values. Teaching appreciation of art and music instills cultural values. Instructing students in basic techniques develops creativity. These opportunities for improved self-expression stimulate the imagination and awaken the individual to the beauty of the "Old Masters." The creation of mood and abstract feelings through the media of color, line, form, words, and sound illustrates personal insight. The development of this ability, too often overlooked, has been given more emphasis in this year's curriculum.

I hope it doesn't hatch.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The mind performs most effectively when the body is in good physical condition. It is the purpose of the physical education curriculum to provide students with the means of staying physically fit. At Killingly High School we are blessed with the most modern physical education facilities available. Our spacious gymnasium is supplied with a large selection of athletic equipment, including facilities for weightlifting, gymnastics, and therapeutic treatment. There are several outdoor sports areas that can be used for field hockey, relay races, and flag football. The use of these facilities, combined with routine calisthenics, provides a balanced physical-fitness program. Our physical education instructors believe it is their responsibility not only to build strong bodies and to create and instill a competitive spirit, but also to educate the students so they will leave school realizing the necessity of maintaining physical fitness throughout their lives.

SENIORS

JANICE A. AHOLA
"I know what happiness is for I have done good work."

JUNE E. ALLEN
"Good nature is seated in the heart of courtesy."

RAYMOND J. ALLEN
"The rule of my life is to make business a pleasure and pleasure my business."

WALTER ANDERSON, III
"A little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest men."

LYNN E. ANTILA
"A personality that glistens in the sun."

DEBORAH L. ARNOLD
"Tranquility is the sign of a contented heart."

RONALD N. AUBIN
"To him who is determined, it remains only to act."

PRISCILLA R. BARREAU
"A smile is to humanity as sunshine to flowers."

WILLIAM D. BARNES
"Essential to a happy life is freedom from care."

CATHERINE A. BARTHOLIC
"Cheerful company makes life a pleasure."

JAMES A. BENSON
" . . . but I have promises to keep, and miles to go before I sleep, and miles to go before I sleep."

Our Strength Is in Unity

An integral part of the Killingly High School curriculum is the assemblies held in our beautiful, spacious auditorium. The programs vary from pep rallies to the annual Christmas assembly. These assemblies afford the students the opportunity to engage in learning situations different from those of the classroom. It is here that we often recognize and honor the individuals and teams who have brought credit to themselves and to our school. It is here that we pay tribute for work well done.

JOANN BERNIER
"A smile is a whisper of a laugh."

JOHN BIENIARZ
"A gay spirit will light a man's way through the clouds of the future."

A. JANE BLODGETT
"Freckles and fun go hand in hand."

Let Us Ponder and Think

RICHARD. C. BONNEVILLE
"As a man thinks in his heart, so is he."

MINA S. BRAVERMAN
"Virtue is like a rich stone, best plain set."

Through education an individual learns how to think, to prosper, to live. The basic concepts are as consequential as the techniques acquired in the learning process. The perseverance required to succeed in school is indispensable to the person who desires to triumph throughout life. The self-discipline necessary to excel in academic courses is critical to the individual who needs to succeed in today's competitive society.

MAUREEN C. BRENNAN
"A kind heart is a fountain of gladness."

BONNIE E. BRIX
"Deeds, not words."

MARJORIE BRUNELL
"A picture is like a poem without words."

CHRISTOPHER M. BURKE
"Quietness is the noblest gift of heaven."

CAROL M. BURNHAM
"Goodness is the only investment that does not fail."

SHERRY BUSLOW
"Charm is one of those good things that comes in little packages."

LINDA D. CAOUETTE
"Not that I love studies less, but I love fun more."

ALLEN V. CHARTIER
"I take life as it comes."

KATHLEEN A. CHASE
"She is the quiet kind whose nature never varies."

LINDA M. CHASE
"A good mixer, a jolly pal, no wonder she's a popular gal."

NANCY M. CHASE
"Much study is a weariness of the flesh."

PHYLLIS J. CODDING
"Proper words at the proper moment."

LORNA F. CONGDON
"A true friend to all who knew her."

STEVEN M. COOLEY
"Studying interferes with my education."

JEANETTE E. CORREIA
"A quiet girl with pleasing ways."

PATRICIA A. CORREIA
"Always happy, never sad, has a smile for everyone."

EVELYN F. COTE
"As quiet a girl as she could be, the best friend a girl could be."

ROBERT J. COTE
"He won't change his mind, but he can change the subject."

BARBARA A. CRABTREE
"If silence were golden, she'd never be rich."

CHERYL L. CYR
"There is no cosmetic for beauty like happiness."

BRIAN E. DALY
"Let tomorrow take care of itself."

Along with the academic life of the students are the social activities. Whether it is the Beat Putnam Dance or the Junior and Senior Proms, many happy hours are spent in planning, preparing, and decorating. These social activities enable the students to appreciate the importance of cooperation and to bind the ties of friendship. Whether the activity consists of victory cheers or soft lights and music, it becomes another moment to remember.

Our Good Times Were Many

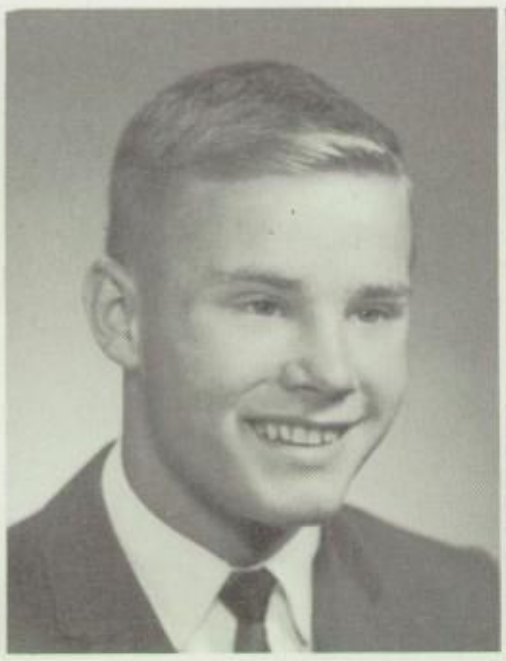
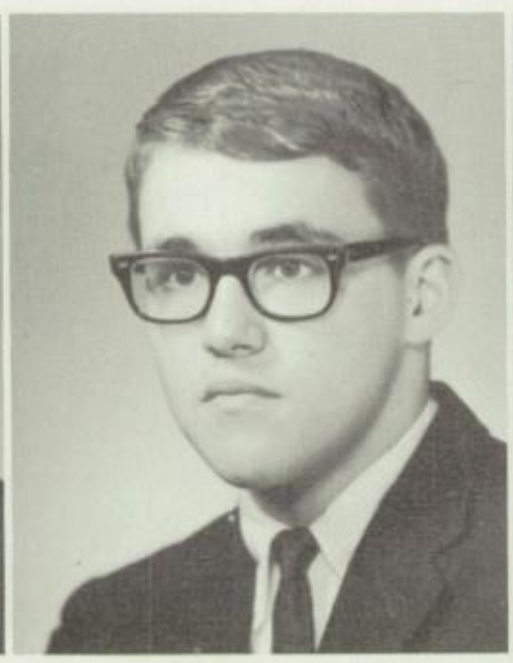
WILBUR R. DARLING, III
"All this mental toil, I'm bushed."



DEAN R. DAVIS
"Few can possess such qualities of cheerful ways and friendliness."

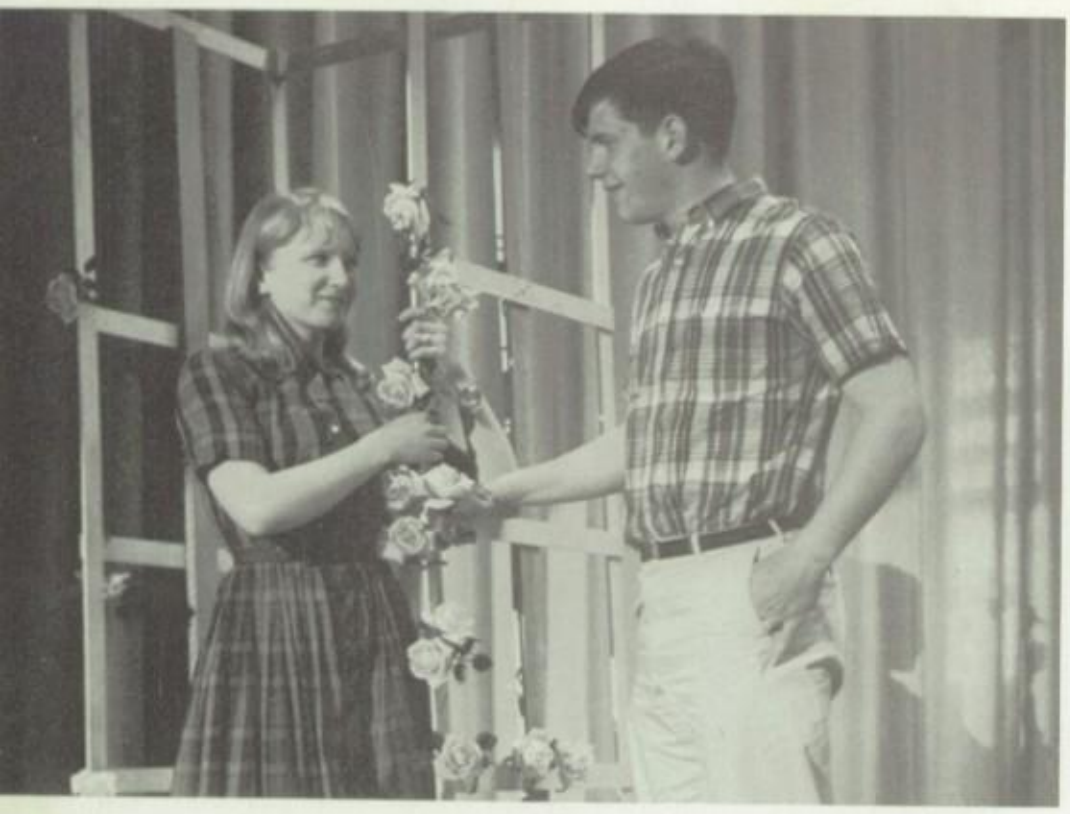
LINDA J. DESPATIE
"Sometimes quiet, sometimes shy, sometimes mischief in her eyes."

RICHARD M. DIANI
"The ocean is full of deep thoughts, but I only ride the waves."



CHARLES P. FERLAND
"It is better to debate a question without settling it, than to settle it without debate."

MIKEL A. FISKE
"Play not for gain but for sport."



Among the traditions continued in our new school are the annual class plays. These activities allow students the opportunity to develop speaking skills as well as the chance to engage in many hours of entertainment. Participating students also develop and increase their appreciation of one of man's oldest art forms. The long hours of practice and preparation under the guidance of a patient director culminate in a feeling of true accomplishment when the curtain rings down after the final act.

We Stood in the Spotlight

JOHN S. FLANAGAN, JR.
"A combination rare and true; athlete, student, and a swell guy too."

SANDRA L. FRANKLIN
"A happy girl who takes nothing seriously."

DOROTHY A. GAHL
"A quiet way, but who can say?"

CHARLENE C. GASIOREK
"Here is a girl who seems quite small, And yet her smile is seen by all."

GERALD GIBEAULT
"To live without humor is not to live at all."

WILLIAM B. GIBSON, JR.
"Enjoy yourselves. It's later than you think!"

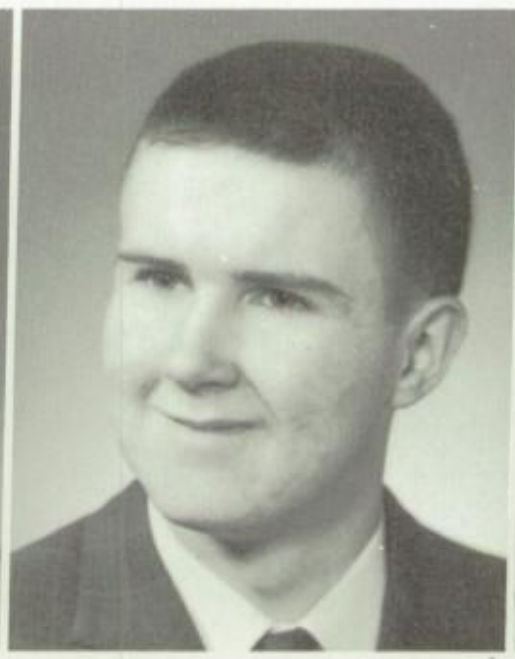
"A heart as true and fair as heavenly air."



DURELL L. HOOPER
"He who can take advice is sometimes superior to him who can give it."

DEBRA A. HUTCHINS
"A grain of gaiety seasons everything."

THOMAS L. JODOIN
"The sociable, honest, friendly man."

JUDITH JOHNS
"Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves."

Our Hands Shape the Future

The mechanical arts offer excellent training opportunities for students in various courses. Although useful for pupils preparing for an engineering career, the mechanical arts are primarily designed to teach mechanical skills to students who wish to pursue the industrial arts as a vocation, either immediately after graduation from high school, or upon completing a course at a technical school. Our new facilities are far superior to those of previous years.

SUSAN R. JONES
"Self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control."

GEORGE O. KATAJA, JR.
"He wants wit that wants resolved will."

GEORGE N. KATSAPIS
"Here's to all of us! While we live, let us live!"

DEBORAH S. KIMBALL
"Her reserve is the truest expression of respect."

ANN M. KLEIN
"Depth of thought; sincerity of action."

Let Our Works Inspire Others

High school publications perform many valuable functions. They provide the members of the school community with a source of news of special interest and importance. Through editorials and letters to the editor, student publications serve as an outlet for student opinion. This medium allows for the display and recognition of the creative talents of many pupils. Also, publications are activities through which students can see composition and rhetoric as something meaningful to their own interests and needs.

KATHLEEN E. KRAJEWSKI
" 'Tis not in mortals to command success, but we'll do more – we'll deserve it."

GERALD A. KRUMPOLS
"Men are measured by their worth."

JORMA A. LAAKSO
"Promises may get friends, but 'tis performances that keep them."

RALPH E. LACHANCE
"Restlessness and discontent are the first necessities of progress."

RICHARD C. LALUMIERE
"Dignity of heart; dignity of character."

LINDA M. LEAVENS
"There is no wisdom like frankness."

RITA ANN M. LEBEAU
"There is mischief in this girl and never a dull moment."

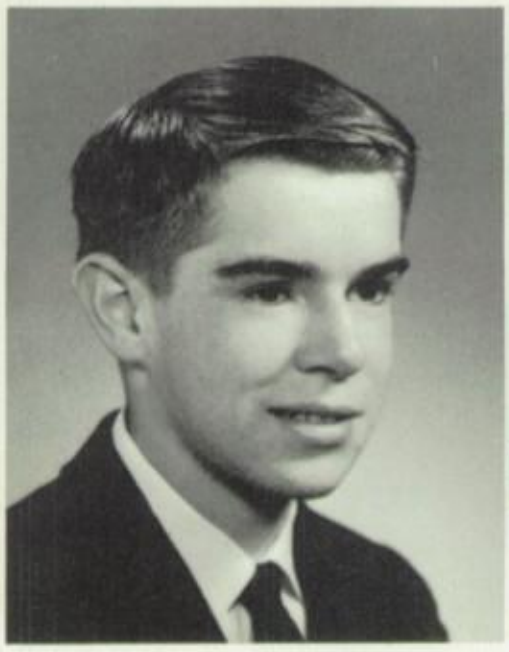
SANDRA L. LEFEVRE
"Both her achievements and her friends are many."

PAUL D. LEFRANCOIS
"The wisest man is one who watches in silence and speaks after thought."

VICTOR K. LEHTINEN
"Wit makes its own welcome."

JERILYN C. LEONARD
"A merry heart makes a cheerful countenance."

JOYCE M. LEQUERE
"Twinkling eyes and a smile to match."



GARY A. LERNOULD
"A man that has friends must show himself friendly."

REIN-MARIE J. LEVESQUE
"One who does her own thinking seldom needs advice."

SHARON E. LISEE
"It's nice to be natural when you're naturally nice."

MADELYN LONG
"Laughing, talking, full of fun."

SYLVIA A. LONG
"She who has peace of mind has conquered an empire."

SANDRA J. LYON
"The power of gentleness is irresistable."

CONSTANCE A. MAGREY
"With virtue and quietness one may conquer the world."

LINDA M. MAILHOT
"Good humor makes all things endurable."

TOMMY R. MARTIN
"The more cheerfulness is spent, the more of it remains."

Our new school library serves as a center for learning experiences. Here, students have at their command ten thousand volumes which enable them to supplement their classroom learning. Artistically designed, the library is directed by an understanding librarian who has successfully created an atmosphere conducive to intellectual development.

We Search for Enrichment

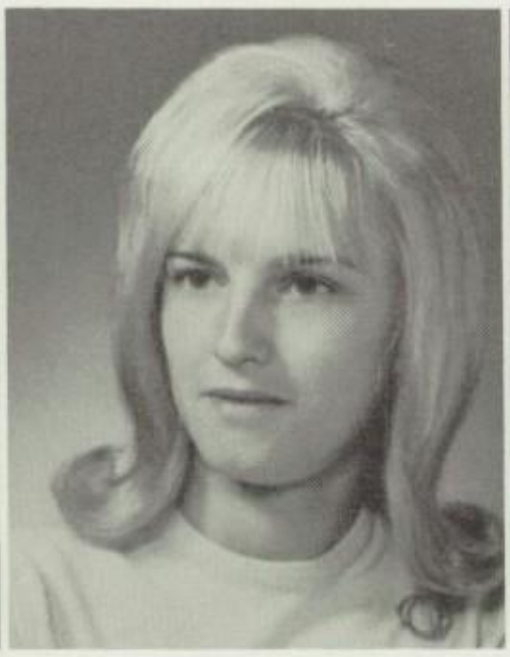
MARCEL E. MAYNARD
"An independent fellow with a firm belief in having fun."



GLORIA J. MENARD
"Quiet as a swarm of bees, with a keen taste for life and all its joys."

JOYCE A. MICHAUD
"The best preparation for tomorrow is to live fully today."

JAMES J. MILLIARD
"Thought is the seed of action."

RICHARD G. MINIO
"It is easier to run fast for a minute than to grind along the dusty road for a day."

BARBARA L. MISTARK
"Good temper oils the wheels of life."

The extracurricular program in our high school provides an opportunity for the student to participate in activities designed to supplement their formal learning situations. Ranging from athletics and intellectual games to language clubs and science organizations, these activities promote strengthening of the body, development of the mind, and awareness of the increasing importance of social and civic responsibility. The new building has allowed an expansion of these organizations in purpose and in scope.

Our Days Were Not All Work

JANICE M. MURRAY
"Don't let her quiet looks deceive you."

MICHAEL J. NAVARRO
"When he walked in, the fun began."

ALTON E. NICHOLS

"He who lives well is the best preacher."

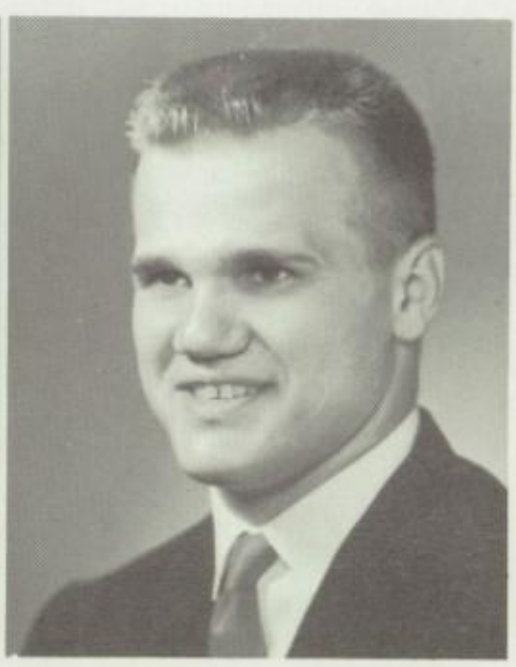
JOHN H. PERKINS
"Besides the five senses, there is a sixth sense of equal importance; the sense of duty."

SANDRA PESTER
"A pleasing personality is more valuable than gold, cheerfulness better than silver."

GLEN PHILLIPS
"What more can be asked of a man than a pleasant disposition?"

HELEN J, PLANTIER
"Sometimes quiet, sometimes gay, her merry heart goes a long way."

JANET M. PLANTIER
"She sits well in the hearts of her friends."



PAUL F. POCKOSKI
"Always play fair, and if you win don't crow about it, and if you lose don't fret."

LINDA J. POIRIER
"A person without humor isn't a person at all."

STANLEY J. POLANSKI
"To be forever reaching out to remain unsatisfied is the key to intellectual progress."

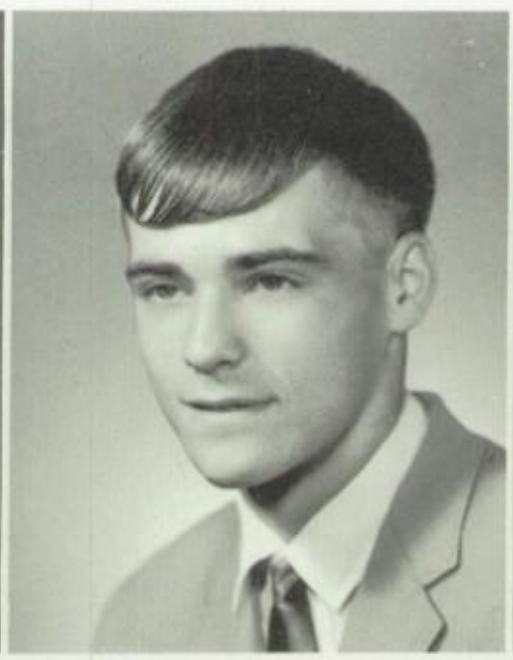
LEO L. PROVOST
"Blessed is he who expects nothing, for he shall never be disappointed."

CATHY G. RENNER
"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

JOAN L. RAMPPAINEN
"She smiled and the shadows departed."

JOYCE I. RUKSTELA
"I see her sweet and fair."

KATHLEEN M. RUKSTELA
"To demand nothing and to complain of no one is an excellent recipe for happiness."



RICHARD N. RUST
"I do not hunger for a well-stored mind, I only wish to live my life."

CAROL A. SAVOIE
"Manners must adorn knowledge and smooth its way through the world."

The role of guidance counselors in the lives of many high school students cannot be overemphasized. It consists in helping students to realize their abilities and potential. Considering students' achievements and interests, the counselor can assist them in choosing realistic goals to pursue in life. The student with doubts about the future can find help in the Guidance Office in discovering ideas and information to use in resolving his doubts.

We Planned for the Future

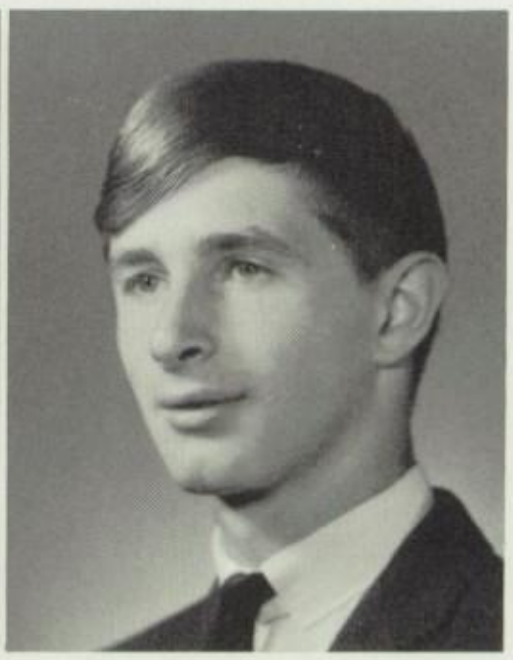
PATRICIA SAVOIE
"The pursuit of the perfect is the pursuit of sweetness and light."

ROBERT SAVOIE
"A little work, a little play, to keep us going on our way."



TIMOTHY J. SCHMIDT

"He speaketh not; and yet there lies a conversation in his eyes."

PATRICIA A. SMITH
"Life is so short, but there is always time enough for courtesy."

SHERRYL E. SMITH
"Live neither in the past nor in the future, but let each day's work absorb your interest, energy, and enthusiasm."

RAYMOND H. SOREL
"Today is the only time we can possibly live."

GARY L. SPOSATO
"Character is the governing element of life and is above genius."

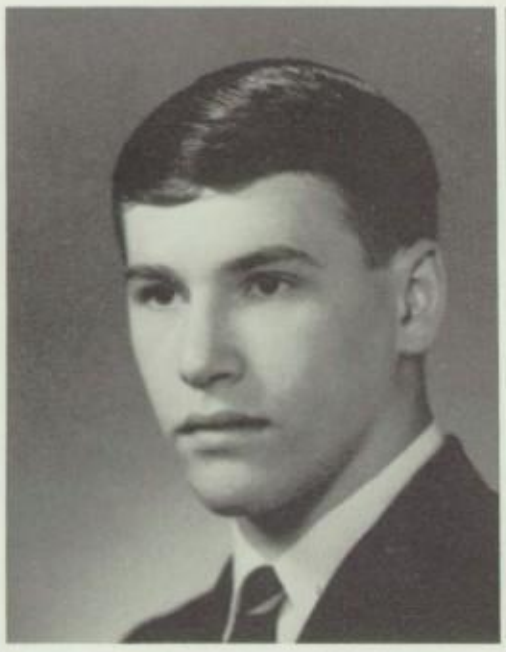
LINDA J. STODDARD
"The sincere alone can recognize sincerity."

JOHAN M. STRANDSON
"The first virtue of all great men is that they are sincere."

DONNA L. TERWILLIGER
"Nothing is so strong as gentleness."

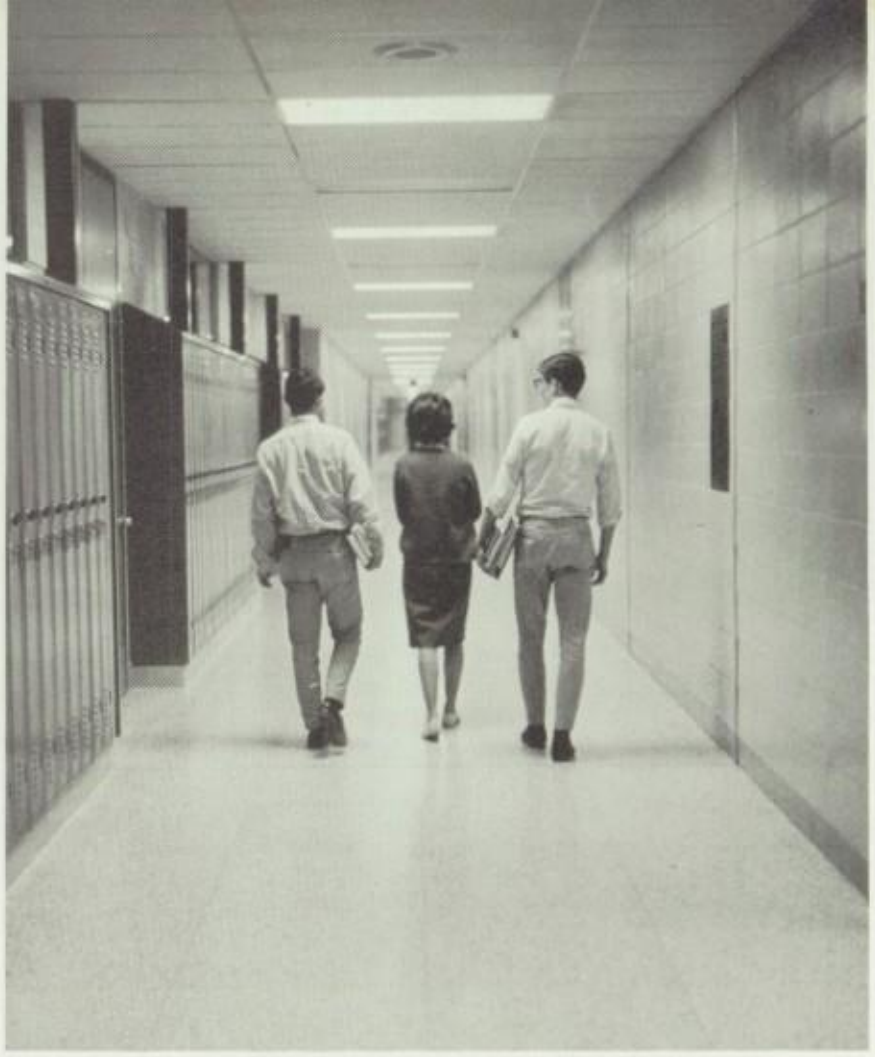
SANDRA A. THAYER
"The noblest service comes from nameless hands, and the best servant does his work unseen."

GERARD L. THEROUX
"Tact is not the quality by which you often please, but by which you seldom offend."



PAUL R. THEROUX
"Strangers are just friends I haven't met yet."

ALBERT D. TRAHAN
"It is a mark of intelligence, no matter what you are doing, to have a good time doing it."



As seniors, graduation becomes a vivid reality. Throughout our four years at Killingly High School we have strived toward worthy goals. The course has been difficult at times but challenging – our pathway straight and unending. As we go forward into the world to continue our careers of work or advanced study, the enrichment of the past is with us. We take memories of happy times and steadfast friends. Now, we must search for a security of our own making, a security whose seed was firmly sown during our school years.

Let Us Go Forth, and Share

BRUCE A. TRINQUE
"Great men may have their weaknesses, but do we have their strengths?"

KATHLEEN J. VANDALL

PETER T. ZUMWALT
"What a man does today determines what he will do tomorrow."

ALEXANDER E. RONAGNANO
"Quiet, but we know he is there."

Cooperative Technical Course

Harvard H. Ellis Regional Vocational Technical School, in cooperation with Killingly High School, has established a program for those students who wish to receive training in a technical skill as well as a secondary education. This program enables students to receive both a vocational education and a sound background in the humanities, both of which are prerequisites for meeting the challenges of industrial employment.

RICHARD C. ADAMS
"Never say more than is necessary."

LOUIS B. ALLEN
"A good-limbed fellow, strong, and of good friends."

ROBERT S. BARNA
"Of all best things upon earth, I hold that a faithful friend is the best."

WILLIAM J. BEAUCHENE
"Good things come in small packages."

ROBERT A. BEAUREGARD
"The social, friendly, honest man."

STEVEN C. CARROLL

"Trifles make the sum of life."

HARVARD H. ELLIS REGIONAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL

JAMES P. VANDALE
"No one knows what he can do till he tries."

ROBERT L.
VERTEFEUILLE
"No one can harm the man who does himself no wrong."

HOMER S. WING
"What a time! What a civilization!"

Superlatives

Each year the senior class selects students who have excelled in several categories throughout their high school careers. Although the long list of outstanding students rendered difficult the task of choosing a particular boy and girl for each category, the Class of '66 selected the students it considered the best possible choices. We sincerely believe that this year's superlatives are the greatest.

One of the highest honors one can receive during four years of high school is to be valedictorian of his class. Phyllis Codding is well deserving of such an honor. She was inducted into the National Honor Society in her Junior year. Among her activities are the traffic squad, chess club, spelling bee, Killonian proofreader, and yearbook literary staff. We the Class of 1966 congratulate you Phyllis as a representation of the highest scholastic standards.

Valedictorian and Salutatorian

The Class of 1966 is very proud to have an salutatorian, Kathleen Krajewski, a member of the Commercial Department. Her activities include the traffic squad, the Senior and Junior Class Plays, and the speaking contest. In addition, Miss Krajewski was inducted into the National Honor Society as a Junior, and she is this past year's secretary of the organization. We wish you the best of everything, Kathleen, for the happiness and success we are sure you will achieve.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society members in action.

One of the greatest attainments that a student can achieve is induction into the National Honor Society. To reach this goal, a student must display his excellence in scholarship, leadership, character, and service throughout his high school career.

Although it is a great distinction to be a National Honor Society member, it is an even greater responsibility. Both students and teachers respect N.H.S. members and expect them to maintain the standards of the Society. These students are examples for the entire student body.

Under the direction of Mrs. Thelma K. Bond, this year's National Honor Society has successfully fulfilled its obligations.

Girls' and Boys' State

Brian Daly, James Benson, Walter Anderson, Susan Wilson, Sandra Lefevre, Dean Davis, Michael Navarro.

Last summer seven students, selected on the basis of their leadership, character, and scholarship ability, attended Laurel Girls' State and Nutmeg Boys' State at the University of Connecticut. During this week each person attending was given a much broader insight to exactly how the state and local governments perform. Those attending were separated into two parties – Nationalists and Federalists – and the week's activities were those of an actual election of state offices. There were nominations for party candidates, causes, a political convention, and election. The final event was the "Governor's Ball" where the elected officials were honored. It proved a most rewarding experience where new knowledge and friends were acquired.

Student Council

The Student Council of Killingly High School, under a new policy, is composed of one representative from each homeroom along with the four class presidents. Its purpose is to: "develop attitudes of and practice good citizenship; promote harmonious relations throughout the entire school; improve school morale, assist in the management of the school; provide a forum for student expression; provide orderly direction of school activities; charter school clubs and other organizations; and promote the general welfare of the school."

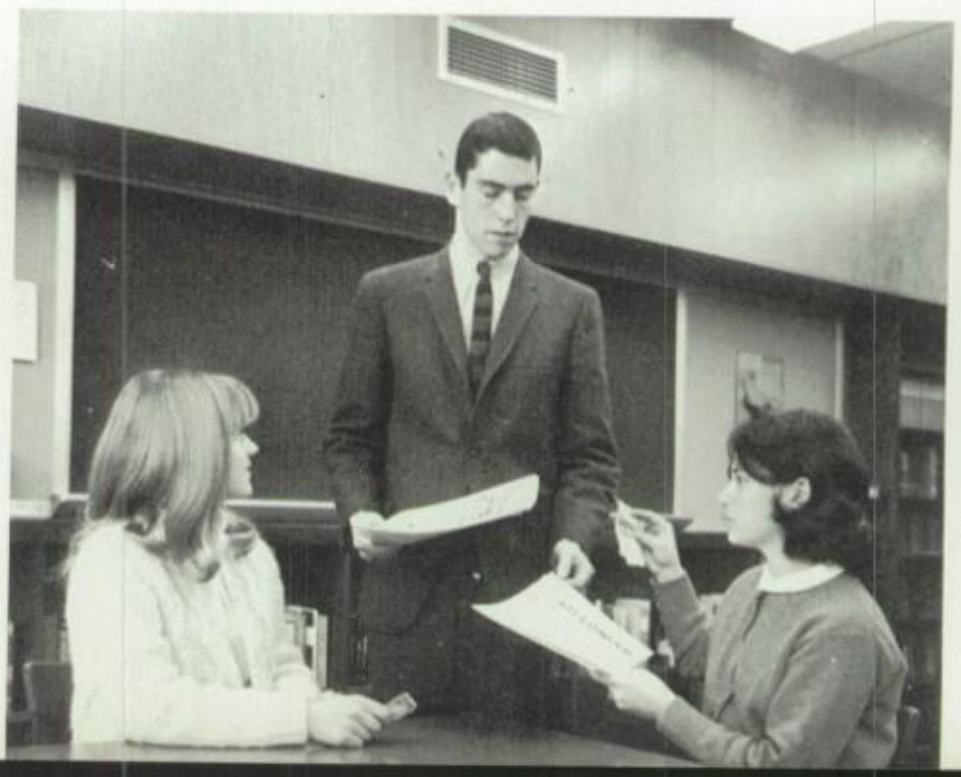
James Benson and assistants meeting a deadline.

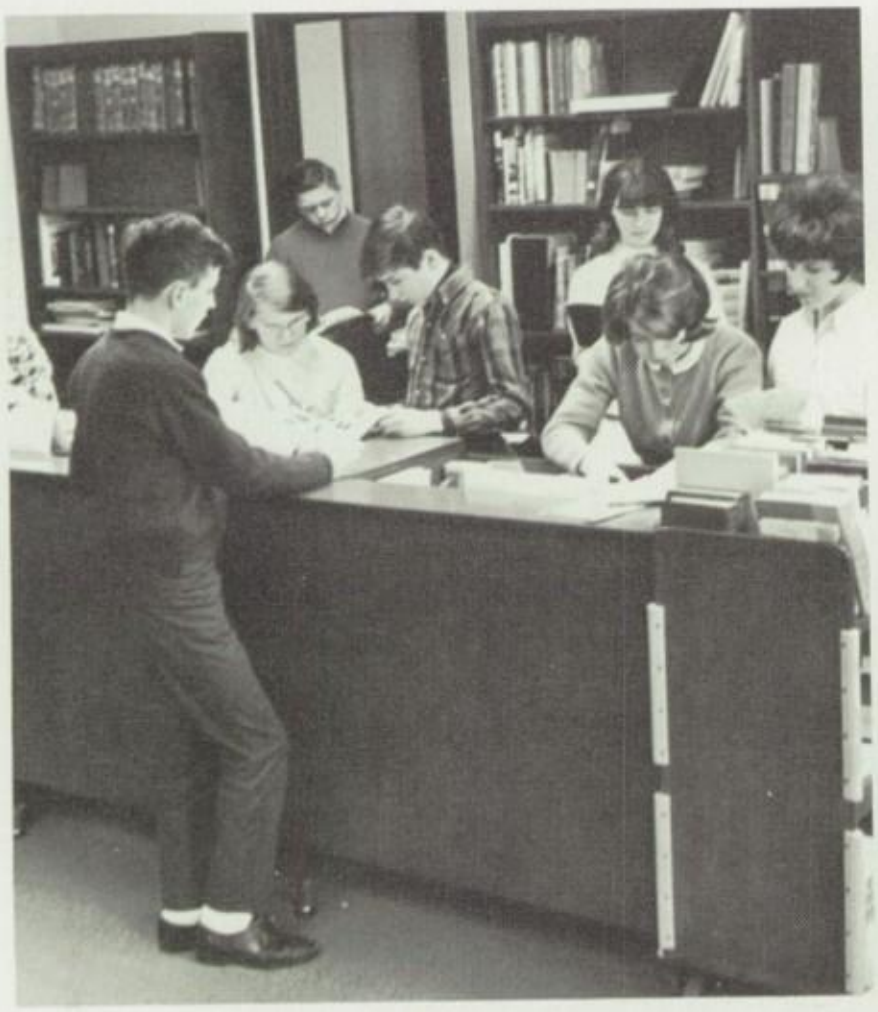
Proofreaders

Typists

While informing the student body of recent activities the Killonian provides an opportunity for the interested students to gain practical experience in journalism. From the initial stages to the final sale, students learn the detailed work involved in a single edition. In addition, working on the Killonian aids an individual in developing a well-rounded personality. The results of this experience cannot be overestimated.

Distribution of the Killonian





This year the Library Club, under the supervision of Mrs. Lilla Knight, Librarian, and Mrs. Virginia Duggins, Assistant Librarian, has been of great help in the setting up and running of the new library. The members of the club perform such tasks as filing, mending, and circulating books.

DEBATING CLUB

DEBATING CLUB

The Debating Club participates in inter-scholastic competition in the art of discourse. This activity helps the members develop their skills as public speakers, enables them to put forth opinions in a convincing way, and is useful for the social and business worlds of tomorrow.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club was formed to stimulate interest in the royal game of chess and to improve the members' skill in playing this time-honored test of intelligence. In addition to games among the members, the club also has tournaments with other schools in Eastern Connecticut.

BRIDGE CLUB

The recently-formed Bridge Club has been remarkably successful in teaching its members how to play contract bridge, one of the most popular social games today. Activities like this provide their members with a background to enter into American social life.

F.T.A. Executive Board.

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

As a member of the Future Nurses Club one becomes more fully aware of the opportunities present in this fulfilling profession. Under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Plant, R.N., this year's club has gone on field trips to nearby hospitals and engaged in numerous charitable projects.

FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB

Preparing students for the demands of the teaching profession is the purpose of the Future Teachers Club. Under the advisorship of Mrs. Crystal Blake the club has participated in many activities, including parties given for retarded children and field trips to nearby colleges and universities. The F.T.A. provides an inspiration to those who plan to enter this rewarding field.

FUTURE FARMERS CLUB

The Future Farmers of America, under the direction of Mr. Edward Gaffney and Mr. Stanley Putnam, participate in many agricultural activities on local, district, state, regional, and national levels. Through such activities the organization strives to develop the character, leadership, and citizenship of its members.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club prepares its members to take an active part in tomorrow's world, one in which science will be increasingly important. The club's activities complement the students' science courses, increasing their knowledge in all fields of science, and prepare them for rewarding, challenging careers.

Girls' Sports Club Officers.

GIRLS' SPORTS

The physical education department has continued the program of intramural sports to supplement the gym classes. These activities provide an opportunity for girls to keep physically fit and to become better acquainted with their classmates. The warm fellowship of intramural sports is a significant factor in the harmony of our school.

LEADERS CLUB

This year the girls' physical education classes elected several students to assist the instructors in gym classes. These girls, who possess both physical talents and leadership qualities, increase the efficiency of gym classes by taking attendance, leading calisthenics, and demonstrating various skills.

Football

The 1965 football team finished a fine season with a successful 5-4 record. The season was highlighted by impressive victories over tough foes, Stonington and Plainfield, but ended in a disappointing loss at the hands of Putnam.

Head coach Norman Allard and his assistants Michael Tierney and Dana Wingren directed the Redmen through this years rugged nine game schedule. The team was led by tri-captains Paul Pockoski, Walter Anderson, and Ken Graves.

Special recognition was received this year by Bill Barnes, Paul Pockoski, and Walter Anderson when they were selected as members of the Eastern Connecticut Conference all-star team.

The captains chosen for the 1966 season are quarterback, Dennis Marois, and lineman, Herb Brine. We would like to wish them the best of luck in leading their team to a fine season next year.

Captains Jeffrey Hardell, Mark Page and Coach Robert Suomi.

The Killingly Redmen, under the guidance of Coach Robert Suomi, had a successful season which led them to the State Tournament with a fine 13-7 record. This year's squad, captained by Jeffrey Hardell and Mark Page, was led by an experienced group of seniors strongly supported by seven underclassmen. Through this year's experience, these returning lettermen should guide next years team to another exciting season.

Baseball

The 1966 baseball team found itself with nine returning lettermen. The team, led by Captain Dean Davis, played an eighteen game schedule including E.C.C. opponents St. Bernard, Waterford, Stonington, E.O. Smith, and Montville.

The team's pitching staff was headed by veterans Jeff Hardell and Ken Graves, backed up by Tim Schimdt, and Bill L'Heureux. Returning lettermen from last year's team include Dean David and Steve Flanagan, outfield; Herb Brine at first; Charlie Crowley at third; and Dennis Magao at second.

In directing this year's team Head Coach Armand Berthiaume was assisted by Mr. Weldon French and Mr. Robert Suomi.

A Tribute to Dr. Fisher

We, the students of Killingly High School, deeply regret the departure of Dr. Francis J. Fisher. As our principal, Dr. Fisher was a gentleman, scholar, faithful administrator and distinguished educator enriching our lives in many ways. We extend to him best wishes for every success and happiness in his new position.
